DECADE OF CHANGE

The year 1989 marks the close of an important decade in the history of the Illinois College of Optometry. The Eighties brought widespread change to every aspect of the College in a response to the continually changing profession it represents. As the definition of optometry is constantly redefined it is important for the college to educate its increasing scope.

The Seventies marked the beginning of important changes in the field of optometry, most notably the widespread adoption of the use of diagnostic pharmaceutical agents. With the Eighties came a push for therapeutic legislation, insurance compensation, hospital-based optometry, and the growing awareness of optometry as primary health care. In reaction to these new frontiers the I.C.O. Board of Trustees met in the early Eighties to discuss how the College with its current facilities could properly meet the new standards the profession demanded. The Board determined changes were necessary.

Along with the new responsibilities in optometry had come an important need for a large and diverse assembly of information. So in 1982 began the construction of the 24,000 square foot facility currently the Learning Resource Center. At this time construction also began on the 650 seat auditorium/lecture center, recreation center, business offices, and the parking garage.

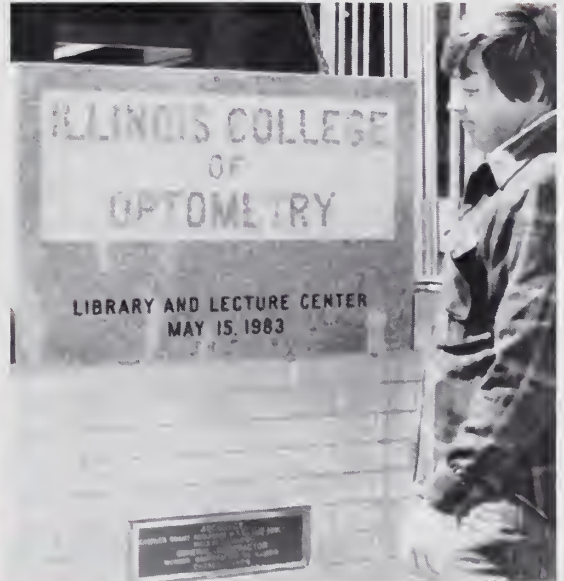

In 1983 came the inauguration of President Boyd B. Banwell, O.D., D.O.S. who would become instrumental in the rebirth of the College. The lecture center, L.R.C., and other facilities were completed in the summer of 1985 and dedicated at the first Oktoberfest/Homecoming in the Autumn. 1985 also was the year Dr. David Greenberg, O.D., M.P.H. became Vice-President for Academic Affairs/Dean and instituted significant changes in the staff and faculty. Many faculty members were replaced to enable an alteration in the curriculum and thus offer a state of the art education concurrent with or ahead of optometric legislation. To help with this idea I.C.O. also began to invite professors from other optometry colleges and related health professions to offer new view points to the students.

Toward the end of 1986 widespread construction began again, developing a new reception area, the specialty clinics, alumni offices, dispensing area, bookstore and primary care facility. These new changes would bring a much needed face-lift to some very visible areas of the clinic, offering an excellent environment for the clinicians as well as pleasant surroundings for the patients. The Summer of 1988 saw the dedication of the new clinic facilities and while most of the work was completed some will continue until the 1990's.

At a time when a great deal of effort was being placed on changes within I.C.O., work was also undertaken to expand the outside arena. 1988 saw the opening of a new satellite clinic. Full service optometric care at Olympia Fields Osteopathic Medical Center is just another way the college is expanding to serve a larger population with up to date optometric care.

Throughout the 1980's I.C.O. has been dedicated to the advancement of optometry. The new lecture center, L.R.C., patient care facilities, and changes in the faculty and curriculum all help illustrate the way I.C.O. is changing to meet progress, and although 1989 will not be the end of these changes, it shows the Eighties truly were a decade of change.

John and Mary, Intramural Co-directors

Director of Community Health and Education
Kristia Owens

The directorship has been in existence since the Student Association's origin in the 70's. The purpose of the position is to enhance the student body's understanding of health care issues as well as contribute to the community's well-being.

In keeping with this, the Director, in conjunction with Life Source, a non-profit Chicago based organization, organizes two blood drives during the school year. Each year ICO students donate blood which helps hundreds of needy Chicago area residents.

The Director also sponsors educational lectures and workshops throughout the year. This year, a special workshop was held allowing students to practice techniques including scleral depression, fundus photography and gonioscopy.

In addition, the Director coordinates the Instructor of the Award. Each class votes on the instructor whom has contributed most to their education during the year. The instructors are presented a certificate during the awards ceremony each year.

The AOSA is the national, professional optometric organization for students. There are 18 local chapters of AOSA; one at each Optometry school. AOSA annually sponsors a student congress. The 1989 Congress was held in Toronto. Here, optometry students from the U.S.A., Canada, and Puerto Rico participated in the lecture series and many entertaining events.

Student Representative to the Alumni Association Cindy Goodreau

The Student Representative serves as a liaison between the Students and Alumni Associations, and is a member of the Alumni Council participating in the annual council meeting held each fall. The representative's responsibilities includes coordinating Donut Day and additional ICO functions.

BETA SIGMA KAPPA HONORARY SOCIETY

Beta Sigma Kappa is an International Optometric Honor Fraternity. Our objective is to promote the advancement of the profession of optometry by encouraging and funding worthy research, to stimulate scientific attainment and profound ethical practice, and to increase the public awareness of proper eye care. At I.C.O. Beta Sigma Kappa functions as a service organization with involvement in the Academic Enrichment Program and I.C.O. Recruitment. B.S.K. members enjoy Blindspot activities at I.C.O. and celebrate with an Annual Spring Banquet and Dance.

The Council on Ethics and Advancement of Professionalism is a student organization dedicated to promoting ethical and professional optometric practice by I.C.O. students and graduates. C.O.E. traditionally hosts the optometry residency information night, the optometric mode of practice debate and various guest speakers at I.C.O. C.O.E. also annually presents the "Professional Award" to one fourth year clinician and one clinical faculty member voted on by students and faculty. Recipients of the award are recognized for their outstanding professional demeanor and high clinical standards.

COLLEGIATE SOCIETY OF THE ILLINOIS OPTOMETRIC ASSOCIATION

Our collegiate society is a direct extension to the Illinois Optometric Association. As an I.O.A. society, we are involved with many state optometric activities. We also have a vote in all decisions made by the Executive Council of the I.O.A. This is accomplished by having a representative of our club at all the Council meetings. These meetings help keep us informed about the latest issues in Optometry. (example is the T.P.A. law).

All our members were given the opportunity to monitor at the I.O.A. Convention, which proved to be beneficial to everyone whom attended. As a society, we held a raffle to support the Illinois therapeutic bill. Hopefully our contribution will help it pass in the near future. The raffle winners were drawn at our Christmas party which went very well. Members were also given the opportunity to help the Northside Society of I.O.A. in a screening held at Northeastern University. This enabled first and second years to work with patients other than classmates. Many third and fourth year students found it to be a good experience also.

Most students are concerned with practice opportunities in the future, so the I.O.A. formed a group of doctors from different modes of practice to discuss with students, the advantages and disadvantages of these various practices. Students were able to ask questions and get feedback as to the work field in optometry.

On the whole our Collegiate Society of the Illinois Optometric Association has had a successful year. Hopefully every year will keep getting better.

FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN OPTOMETRISTS

Co-Chairman
Joe Uyeda
Chap Leffingwell

The Illinois College of Optometry Chapter of F.C.O. International is a new organization at I.C.O. It began as an informal student organization for Christian fellowship and spiritual growth. This year the organization became a chapter of F.C.O. International.

The primary purpose for which F.C.O. was founded to help optometrists and allied ophthalmic personnel become established in the type of mission work which combines eye care and the furtherance of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. Another general purpose of the I.C.O. Chapter is to promote Christian fellowship between optometrists and others in the ophthalmic professions. The I.C.O. Chapter provides Christian fellowship by giving services and encouragement to each other.

Among the service activities the I.C.O. Chapter provided this year were an optometric missionary trip to Haiti; Christmas caroling at area nursing homes; and the Brady Hall orientation moving assistance. The I.C.O. Chapter had meetings on a weekly basis for bible study, activity planning, encouragement and support of one another in accordance with Christian beliefs.

TOMB AND KEY HONOR FRATERNITY

Mark Hardacre President
Dawn Luvaas Vice President

Tomb and Key Honor Fraternity was formed in 1934 to recognize academic excellence and promote ethics within the field of Optometry. This honorary fraternity extends membership invitations to students on the basis of superior scholastic achievement and college leadership. Students with a minimum 3.75 grade point average are eligible for membership after five quarters on campus; after eight quarters those students with a minimum 3.60 average are eligible; and third quarter, fourth professional year students are eligible with a minimum of 3.40 average.

The Tomb and Key Fraternity serves the Student Association as the Committee on Academic Assistance, providing tutorial assistance to students experiencing academic difficulties.

The Optometric Extension Program is the organization which for over sixty years has been providing continuing education to optometrists. Its orientation is behavioral which means it views vision problems as the result of an individual's interaction with and adaptation to the environment, rather than just a result of heredity and genetic variation. Historically, it has been a leader in visual analysis and visual therapy. What is less known is that it was way ahead of its time in providing a continuing education course on ocular disease and neuro eye disease back in the 1940's, running a twelve year series of monthly chapters. O.E.P. continues to be ahead of its time with current research on the relationship of vision, cognitive processing styles, the problems of illiteracy and continuing education programs on the physiology of stress and near point work. The near point stress concept was developed by A. M. Skeffington, one of the founders of O.E.P., fifty years ago, but only recently has research in physiology been able to explain the mechanisms of why stress affects vision adversely, and how lenses and therapy counteract these environmental forces. In 1990 O.E.P. will be beginning a new Journal of Behavioral Optometry available to student members as well as doctors. This will be a refereed journal that will serve as a forum for ideas and research on behavioral topics. O.E.P. also publishes a twelve volume series called "Introduction to Behavioral Optometry" and a student series for each year of optometric education. In addition, the O.E.P. sponsors Regional Clinical Seminars taught by leaders in the field of behavioral vision theory and practice.

O.E.P.-C.O.V.D. Workshop

In September 1988 O.E.P. liaison Toni Orfield and C.O.V.D. liaison Peggy Foley founded the Workshop to explore topics of interest in behavioral optometry. The national organizations funded lectures by Dr. Robert Sanet, former president of C.O.V.D. and leading sports vision olympic trainer; and Dr. Martin Birnbaum, nationally known expert on vision training, nearpoint stress problems, strabismus and amblyopia. Also presented were lectures by; Dr. Sue Cotter, Dr. Neil Hodur, Dr. Brian Caden, Dr. Kelly Frantz, Dr. Janice Scharre, and Dr. Michael Zost. The Workshop was an outgrowth of the 87-88 O.E.P. Lect/Disc Series.

CONTACT LENS SOCIETY

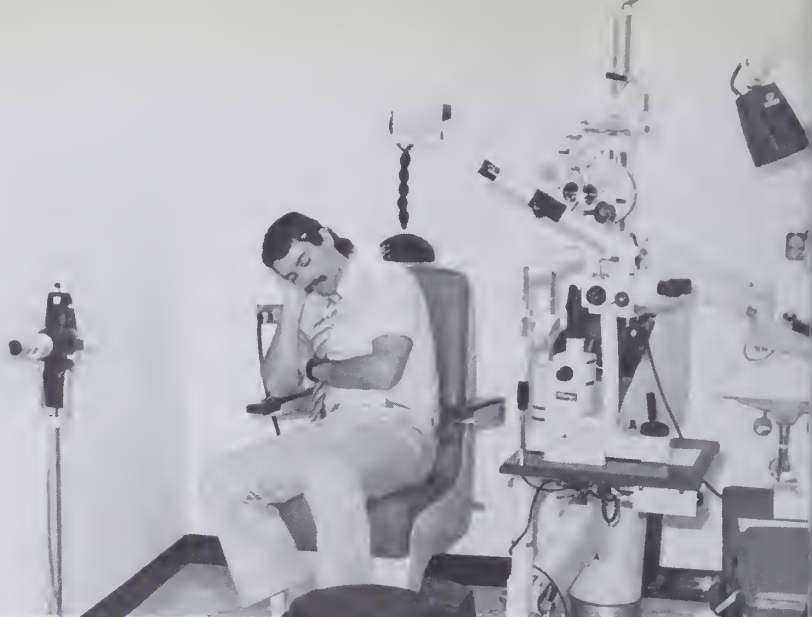

The Contact Lens Society is a professional organization designed to improve the students working knowledge of the contact lens community. This year we hosted fifteen meetings and fitting seminars in which contact lens companies sponsored speakers to come in and discuss their products or topics of our choice. Following the programs, the companies provided refreshments ranging from pizza or chicken at I.C.O. to cocktail parties and dinners at downtown hotels. This offers a valuable opportunity for the company representatives to meet with third and fourth year students on an individual basis, a relationship that will hopefully be mutually beneficial in the future. In May we held the first annual Contact Lens Society Banquet at Ash Manor; members received their certificates of membership and we honored the contact lens company whom the Society felt was most dedicated to I.C.O. and the profession.

THE OPTOMETRIC OATH

Before God and this assembly,
I solemnly pledge that I will faithfully and conscientiously administer the art and science of optometry,
I will keep inviolate all confidences entrusted to me as a practitioner and conduct all doctor-patient relationships in an ethical and professional manner.
I will place the treatment of all who need visual care above financial consideration.
I will uphold and promote the ideals of the optometric profession.
I will do all in my power to improve my knowledge of optometry and increase the extent of my contribution to the health and welfare of society.
I will render, to the best of my ability, complete optometric service.
I will do my utmost to serve my country and community faithfully, as an optometrist and as a citizen.
I will strive by action and deed to honor the title bestowed upon me this day.
With firm resolution of purpose and high resolve, I proudly dedicate my work to the betterment of human vision and my life to the service of humanity.
And may God watch over me, and keep me steadfast, in the due performance of this my solemn oath and obligation.

CLASS OF 1989

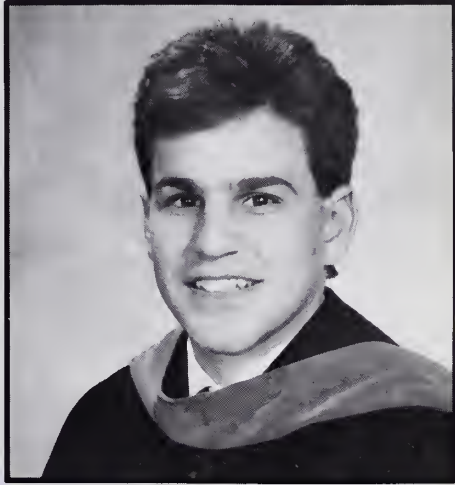

Dedication To The Class Of '89

As we all look upon the future, and the serious demands that our profession will put upon us, we will always reflect back on commencement and our graduation events as an achievement of a goal set early in our professional years. When we began our studies it was difficult to even imagine a graduation event. Our main concern was to complete our courses, pass National Boards, and do well in clinic. It did not seem feasible that along the way we would work together to make some money and have a little fun! As class representatives, part of our responsibilities entailed making valuable decisions for the class, for which we appreciate your confidence. Thank you also for the support many of you showed us during controversial issues; this made our job a lot easier and worthwhile. For those fellow classmates who volunteered their time and effort to make the graduation events possible, we thank you for your enthusiasm and organizational skills. So let us sit back, enjoy the memories, and look upon the future for it begins today.

Special Messages from those who care

Dear Jodi Armstrong:

First of all we want to tell you how proud we are of you and your accomplishments. Then we want to tell everyone!

We love you,
Dad, Mom and Dr. Jill and the rest of your family

Congratulations Caroline Cho;

We are very proud of you for having obtained all your goals.

We love you,
William & Ok Ji Luginbuhl

Jerilyn Creel-Kofman;

Many times through the years, I have been given some of the credit for you being the wonderful person you are.

The only credit I can take, is the privilege and pride of being your "Mom". Thanks for being you!

I love you!
Mom

Patrick Ebert;

May the road rise to meet you. May the wind be always at your back. May the sun shine warm upon your face.

All our love to a very special son and brother,
Dad, Mother and Lori

Trayce Epps;

If you continue to believe in yourself, in your dreams, hopes and abilities and continue to treasure your faith and keep it alive in your heart - nothing can hold you back.

Congratulations! Love,
Mom, Dad and brothers

Sue Feather:

Congratulations to a wonderful daughter.

"We love you Honey,"
Dad & Mom

Congratulations Peggy Foley;

You are a true professional and a wonderful daughter. We are very proud of you and your accomplishments. A marvelous career lies ahead for you!

All our love and best wishes,
Mother & Dad

Todd Funk;

This message is written so you will always remember how special you are to us. You have proven the worth of great expectations - both yours and ours. We've never been prouder!

All our love,
Mom and Dad

Vincent D. Gori;

Congratulations Vin! We're all very proud of you. Good luck in your career and best wishes for a lifetime of health and happiness.

Love,
Mom, Dad and family

Alexandria Halkias;

Congratulations! May your future be filled with happiness and success. We are very proud of you!

Love,
Mom, Dad, Helen and Louis

Peter Kalinka;
Good luck always!
Mom, Mike, Mary & Joann

Sheryl Martuccio;
Congratulations!
We love you,
Mom, Dad, Jim, Michael & Ann

Congratulations Ruth McCarthy;
We are proud of you. The best of luck in the future.
Love,
Mother & Dad

John Monty;
Congratulations to you, John. To us, you're no only one of our seven. You're one in a million.
Mom & Dad

Steven J. Park;
Keep up the good work!
John H. Park

Nancy Prybylo;
You did your best-
You are the best-
We love you best-
A most successful and happy life as an O.D.
Love,
Mom Delphine Prybylo

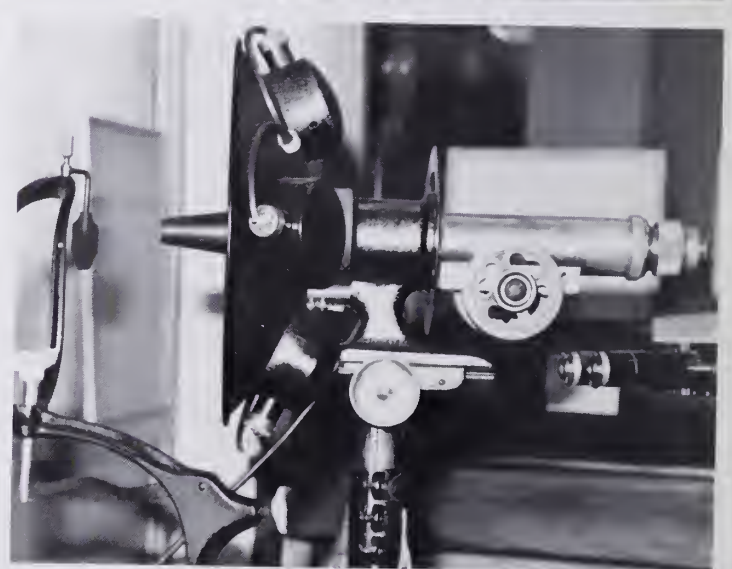

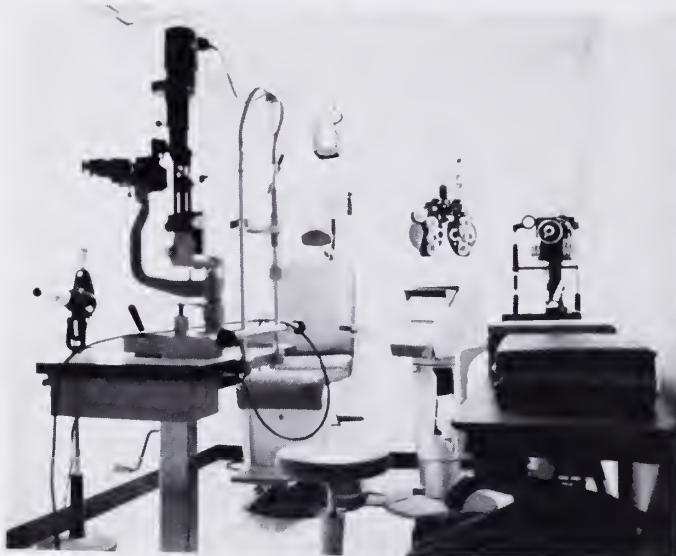

Laurie Runnerstrom;
Congratulations! Words cannot say how proud of you we are as you make your final step into the working world. You have shown tremendous determination and perseverance. Good Luck!
We love you,
Dad, Sue and Kirsty

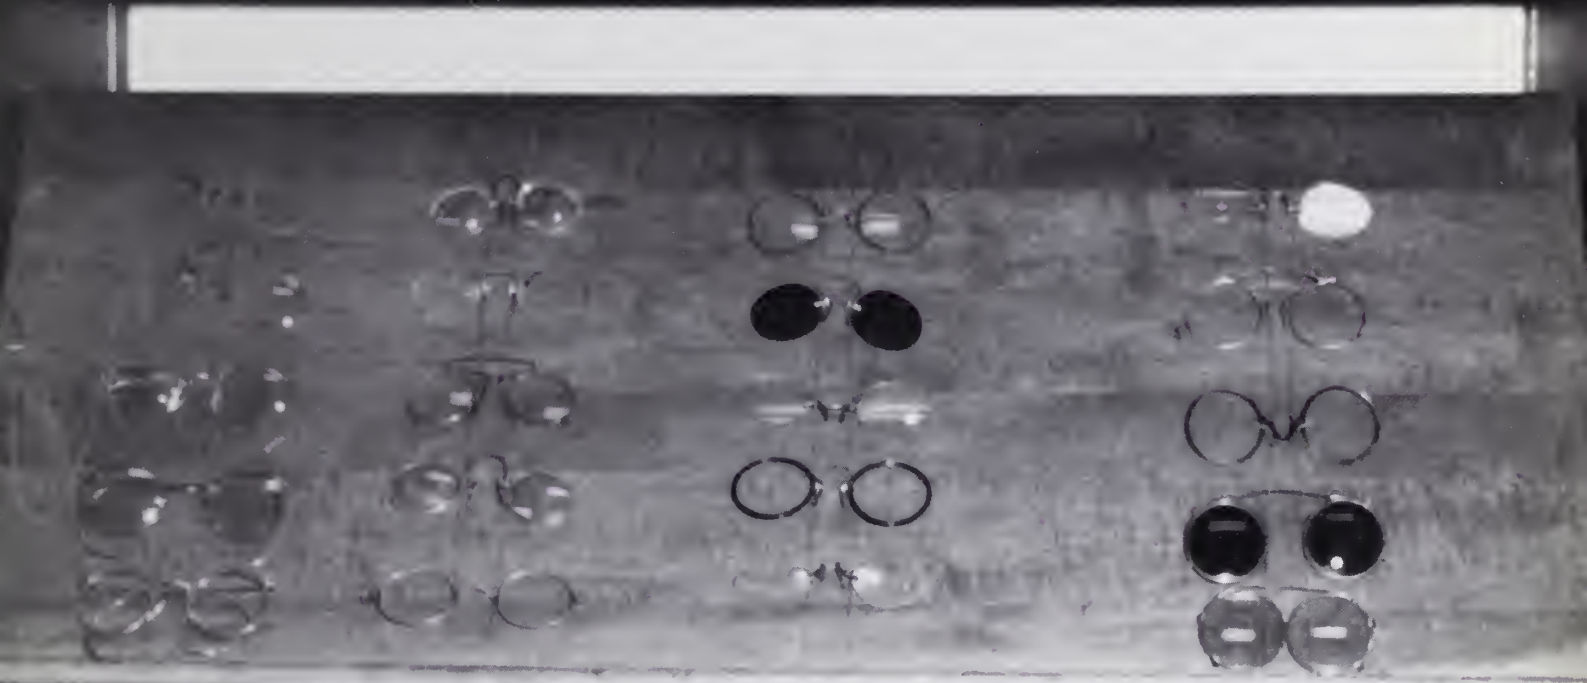

Richard J. Torson;
May your future bring prosperity, success and most of all happiness. You're a son to be very proud of.
Love,
Mom

Joseph T. Uyeda;
Congratulations to Joey.
With our love,
Dad, Mom, Mike & Case

Lonnie Williams;
Lonnie you have made the family very proud of you. Your success is outstanding. The years of hard work have paid off. We can see a bright and rewarding future for you. Your dreams are now a reality.
God bless and keep you,
Your loving family

Lani Rei Yamafuji;
Like the little engine that could, you chugged
along and made it to your goal!
Loads of happiness to you from,
Dad, Mom, Lola & Dave

“The whole secret of the study of nature lies in learning how to use one's eyes.”

—George Sand, 1869

Looking. Learning. Trusting what you see. Gathering information and using the facts to improve things. That's what optometry, or any study of nature, is all about.

May you always be guided by a clear vision. And may you always appreciate the singular gift you have for enabling others to see things more clearly.
